Overall, I think the MWR programs has a great impact on soldier's welfare. I would participate in more activities, but I have limited time due to work requirements, visiting my two kids as often as possible who are 1,200 miles away, and pursueing a bachelor's degree. Keep up the good work, the MWR programs are appreciated by many including myself.

The main problem with Fort Hood is they're are not enough activities for the amount of people here. Every where you go there is a line or a wait and it is easier to go off post. The child care is to expensive and the hours are not long enough, if you do leave your child longer it gets extremely expensive. These programs are supposed to benefit us and not rob us of all of our money.

Would like to see more deals for family snow-skiing trips via air, and much more availability to good concert and professional sporting event tickets in the Dallas area. Sailing classes would be a big hit, if the program were to offer american red cross cetification at the completion of the course. Also, more information needs to be made available regarding on post hunting opportunities (ie, locations, times, requirements, etc)

I do not feel very informed about all the oportunities on post for MWR. Phantom distro and MWR emails are the only way I hear about anything. I do not remember anything goven out during inprocessing either. I do feel the MWR is an integral part of the military life. I feel there should be some other method of reaching soldiers and letting them know about the oportunities provided. In-processing would be a good time to offer hand outs listing the programs. I am not awair if the junior enlisted are given this already, however officers and senior NCO's are not. i know it would be beneficial to the soldiers as well as the MWR program as a whole if soldiers are better informed about the oportunities provided.

We do not use the MWR. Most of the time the command in my company will not let you go to the services that you offer during duty hours..... We get better recreational stuff off post and most of the time the people are nicer and they are there to help you. I have had bad luck with the MWR on Fort Hood, IE rude employes, and the people that work at most of the places, outdoor rec, at the lake and the automotive center 4Th ID side seem like they don't care about the soldiers or the people that use these places. I use the car wash alot. Clear creek and the one close to clothing sales. They need to be up dated.

This post has the worst Automotive Skills center I've seen, and this is the 5th one I've used. Germany, Ft. Carson, Ft. Sam Houston, and Ft. Riley's left much to be desired here, and Ft. Hood's Automotive Skills center has little to offer.

The post club system also, is in a sad state of repair, and in much need of fixing. The beer selection is horrible, some decent Imports or Micro Brews would make it considerable more appealing to me. IE Sierra Neva Pale Ale, Bass Ale, just not more Miller/ Bud type beer.

I use the marina at BLORA most often since I have my boat stored there. A great number of other boaters have expressed interest at storing their boats there but the marina is full. Upgrading the marina would allow more people access to Belton lake and the activities offered at BLORA. The MWR program on Ft. Hood is highly visable, there are fliers for a trip to mexico in our orderly room and phantom distro is good at informing everyone about upcoming events.

All the local ponds on Ft Hood need to be policed up. It's a shame that there is garbage everywhere. With the great manpool of soldiers here on Ft Hood I don't understand why we have so much trash around these ponds. How can we start a Volunteer Program where specific units are tasked to police up ponds. Another idea would be to have the Post CSM have every extra duty soldier (AR-15) report to the Sportsman Center and bus them to these lakes and ponds to clean up. Here's another idea, My son and I would gladly volunteer if MWR had a volunteer day to pick up the ponds. I'll even volunteer my Pick-up Truck and pay for the gas, I'll need to borrow a trailer because I don't have one. My son and I always pack out our trash when fishing. As an incentive for volunteering you could give away small gift certificates such as two free bowling games or go hit a bucket of golf balls or a free round of skeet shooting ect. Have CSM Gainey and I'll sell the idea for you. here's my contact information:

I predominately use the sportsman's center. The hunting and fishing management and programs are important to me and many others. But, I'm concerned that it is starting to price folks out of the ability to use it. I think $60 to use the post for hunting and fishing is extremely high. I'm unaware of any post charging this much during my 15 years. Take a look at Leavenworth. Probably the most successful sportsman's lodge, yet very little dues, great management, and monthly gatherings. Although I don't use many of the other MWR services doesn't diminish my belief that they are important. Taking care of soldiers makes my job easier, many of those facilities do that. Thanks

I consistently attempt to attend a free Yoga class held at Starker Gym on Tuesday nights and Saturday evenings. Of the 10 times I have gone, only one time has the instructor showed up. She is a very good instructor, but she is always late, sometimes letting the class sit there for over 30 minutes without calling to inform the gym staff that she will not be on time. We are left clueless as to whether she will ever show up. Please see that either she is severely reprimanded, or stop advertising the class.

the army needs to get priorities straight because the things that fall through the cracks in the long run is hurting one soldier at a time and if the army put forth a working effort more soldiers would most likely stay in ie. giving soldiers a little more leisure time before deployments and subjects of that nature. thank you for listening have a good day.

Because I don't reside on post, I don't use the facilities except for the Officer's Club once a week. I am sure that there are many good activities for those who live on post and for those living close to post (within 3-5 miles). I used to use many of the facilities years ago and found that customer service seems to be lacking in that when you ask MWR people, Belton Lake and others that I have visited over the years, it's like they are doing you a favor to give you an answer. It's almost like a trouble to find out information for you. With the higher security and enhanced Force Protection, access to facilities becomes more difficult and burdensome to many people. Overall, I feel that MWR has many fine facilities for soldiers and families to use. Fees have caused a little disgruntlement, but with soldiers getting sufficient salaries today, it shouldn't be a problem to support the MWR activities.

A secondary source for information about post activities is included in my Killeen Daily Herald on a weekly basis. With such a large population, it is sometimes difficult to take advantage of some services due to overcrowding, such as library and bowling. I do, on occasion, take advantage of PX offers of free Round Rock baseball tickets. Let's face it, with the current population, it is expected that a real strain will continue to be placed on rec activities. Check the lunch traffic going off post on Thursdays!

I hear about some programs, events by word of mouth from co-workers.

When things are advertised, they are directed at military only. I've been a Government employee since 1977, and feel I have served my country well in my capacity as a Dept of the Army Civilian (DAC), as I support the war fighter. However, since all advertisements state the event, sneak previews, tickets to sports events, etc., are for the military and families, I am not included in many of the events/offers. There are many things I would like to participate in, if reasonably priced, and offered to Dept of the Army civilians as well as the military and their families.

I'm not sure what programs, events, services are available for DA Civilians. Unless it is advertised as applicable to us, I won't go, but possibly would love to go.

I would like to see concerts with Contemporary Christian Music Artists (such as Casting Crowns, Jeremy Camp, Jenny Vasquez, Rebecca Saint James, etc., as heard on KLOVE 88.5). Also, concerts with groups that perform the 50s thru 70s type music, as well as Big Band Era music (Glenn Miller, Benny Goodman).

Answer for question 66: My secondary source of information is word of mouth.

I don't consider my input to this survey as very valuable since I live 50 miles away. If I lived closer I would probably use some of the MWR facilities. It's too inconvenient to drive back up here to use them.

I personally don't see MWR programs as an indicator of the Army's commitment to military families. The Army isn't funding most of them, so they can't claim the commitment. If they were putting their funds to it then I could buy the commitment aspect. Case in point is the Longhorn Saloon on West Fort Hood. This was the only non-dining hall eating establishment on WFH. It was closed because it wasn't profitable. If the Army was committed to military families/lifestyle issues then they would have kept it open so people would have a place to eat without having to drive to town or across post. This shows me that profit is more important than supporting the troops.

I'm retired military and know the value of your programs in supporting military and their families. Unfortunately, with budget cuts over the years your programs are becoming more of a business entity than a troop support program. Your current operations are designed for failure. You can't compete with local businesses because of the wages and expenses associated with operating on a military installation. If you don't start getting additional appropriated dollars to fund the programs I can see them dropping by the wayside one by one until they no longer exist.

MWR DOES A GREAT DEAL HERE ON THIS INSTALLATION AND DOES SHOW A CARING NATURE FOR THE ARMY COMMUNITY. I COMMEND THEM ON THEIR EFFORTS AND THE JOB THEY DO. ALTHOUGH ALOT OF THE PROGRAMS AND SERVICES I MYSELF HAVE NOT USED, I LIKE KNOWING THAT IT IS THERE FOR ME TO CHECK INTO WHEN I HAVE TIME.

ONE THING I WOULD LIKE TO SEE MWR DO IS ON SPORTING ACTIVITIES SUCH AS SOFTBALL, ALLOW ARMY GOVERNMENT CIVILIANS TO ACTIVELY PARTICIPATE AND BE COMPETITIVE DURING THE SOFTBALL SEASON WITH THE UNITS ASSIGNED HERE AT THIS INSTALLATION. I WORK UNDER THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS/FORT HOOD FIRE DEPARTMENT AND EMERGENCY SERVICES AND FOR THE LAST SEVERAL YEARS WE HAVE TRIED TO PUT A SOFTBALL TEAM TOGETHER TO PLAY DURING THE SEASON AND HAVE BEEN INFORMED WE COULDN'T PARTICIPATE IN A COMPETITIVE NATURE AGAINST THE OTHER UNITS HERE ON POST. I WOULD REALLY LIKE TO SEE THIS CHANGE BECAUSE FIRST AND FOR MOST IT'S GOOD COMMUNITY RELATIONS AND IT BUILDS MORALE AMONG ARMY CIVILIANS AND ARMY SOLDIERS, PLUS IT ALLOWS PEOPLE TO INTERACT WITH EACH OTHER AND CREATE FRIENDSHIPS.

The West Fort Hood pool is closed and therefore cannot conduct lap swimming. Needs repair, NOW.

Hear about most of Ft. Hood events by word of mouth from co-workers.

Ft. Hood MWR is doing an excellent job of trying to offer a variety of events and maintain what is offered. Some of the equipment wears faster than other and occasionally presents a substandard availability.

Department of Army civilians are limited. I could have given a really great review about some on-post activities/opportunities, however, I am exempt from using them. My strong suggestion is that DACs be allowed on-post privileges as service members. We're all ID card holders and this would also boost the revenue for MWR based facilities.

I am a civilian worker here on Ft Hood. For the places on post that are offered for me, I am very pleased with the food and fun that comes with the great teamwork of the staffs at these places. I am looking forward to seeing what may come in the future for the growth of Ft Hood here for the civilian personnal. Thank you for a great job.

The Morale and Welfare Centers would be great for all active duty and civilians the stay around fort hood but a large amount of activites close to early most soldiers and contractor get off work between 1700 and 1830 about that time some places are closed and the bus systems on this post is not working at all for those who live in the barracks. two car washing area on this post is not enough plus off post it cost .50 cent and on post cost .75 ? ,mainly everything are open at the same time soldiers are at work .

At age 75 and having been retired for some 37 years, the activities outlined in this survey are really not too important to me. Most of my activities center around my fraternal membership in my Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite, and the Shrine. I frequently participate in parades and activities involving driving my go-cart. Would not expect the Army to cntribute to these activities.

The weekend child care offered to spouses of deployed soldiers was invaluable during my spouse's deployment. However, it was made difficult by being changed from one Child Care facility to another each month. The amount of people utilizing it caused about a 30 minute wait to sign up the children, then having to take a different age group child to another facility across the post made it near impossible to WANT to use it. The service is needed desperately, but perhaps could be open every weekend (Saturday) with families allowed to sign up for one weekend a month and having all the children at one facility as well as using the same facility each time.

I am very limited to activities. Unable to walk for long distances or stand very long. Many of these facilities I have used in years past and are essential, especially for the active duty military. My time is mostly taken up with gardening, grand-children, mainteance on my home and several acres of land, and trips to the doctor and hospital. When I had children at home we used many MWR services. Fort Hood is very fortunate to have what it has. The first time I was stationed here it was Camp Hood and practically no MWR.

On April 23rd I had the displeasure of visiting the ECOC (Equipment Check Out Center) on Clear Creek Road. My daughter had already called them earlier that morning to inquire about renting both a Sno-Cone Machine and a Cotton Candy Machine for use at our church carnival on Sunday the 24th. The information she was provided by the ECOC was that the machines could no be picked up until 1330 on the 24th. When my daughter called me with the information, I decided to go there in-person to inquire about the availability of the equipment. I was initially struck by the rudeness and attitude displayed by Ms. Riley, who, when told that I needed the machines for the next day, immediately announced that they (the ECOC) were closed on Sunday. When I further questioned her about what the procedure was for someone that needed the machine on a Sunday and whether that meant I would pick the machine up that day (Saturday) and return it on Monday morning, she rolled her eyes and walked back to a doorway of another room. She appeared to glance quickly at a wall and then came back to me to announce that the ECOC was open from 1330 to 1500 on Sundays for turn-in only (a contradiction to what my daughter had been told not three hours earlier). Had we waited until Sunday to pick-up the machines as she had been instructed we would have been denied rental. When I told Ms. Riley that I wanted both machines, plus 400 Sno-cone cups, 400 Cotton Candy Cones, and three Sno-cone Syrup pumps, she told me they had no pumps before she even looked. When I asked again she looked in the front display and then disappeared into a back storage room. She came back to the front to tell me they only had one pump and then looked perturbed when I stated that one was better than none. I asked about whether they accepted a Discover credit card and was quickly told "no". No other information about credit cards was provided so I called my daughter to bring me either another card or my check book. While I was on the phone Ms. Riley again disappeared towards the back room and it wasn't until she came back out some time later with supplies in her hand that I knew she was filling my request. The only other person in the ECOC was another employee that was busy inventorying the cash register. Ms. Riley's attitude remained the same and was even noticed by my wife and daughter when they finally showed up with another credit card. Ms Riley's attitude toward customers must be just towards me and my family, because as soon as two male patrons showed up by themselves, she was "all smiles". I loaded the machines and left.

When I returned both machines the following day, I was "greeted" by a gentleman sitting on a stool in the receiving area. He told me where to set the first machine and then remained plopped on his stool while I unloaded the heavier Sno-cone machine. The only assistance offered was to tell me to take it to a back room and put it on a shelf. I did receive some assistance from a younger female that followed me to the room and told me which shelf to place it on and then filled out my return paperwork. The gentleman did not even budge when I was leaving and the female asked him if he had bothered to at least check the machines for cleanliness.

If this is the general "Service" attitude of the ECOC personnel it is a wonder that the facility remains open. I have talked to others former patrons that had the same level of service that I received. We all agree... although it may be a few (and I stress a "few") dollars cheaper to rent from the ECOC, we would rather rent from off post establishments that believe they are there to serve us and treat patrons with respect.

1. I'm disappointed in the club activities on post which have declined greatly since we arrived in the area.
2. The movie theater's cleanliness and thus it's atmosphere certainly are not conducive to greater use.
3. The location of recreational facilities (i.e., the bowling center) indicate that they were not built for the soldier's use. How can a young soldier without transportation get to the bowling alley? At least in the past they were in the barracks areas.

Ft Hood Travel Camp needs to be enlarged.

The travel camp also needs to have shower facilities, roads, and trailer pads upgraded and expanded.

Allow travel camp facilities to take reservations in advance and hold spaces (wih credit card if necessary) to facilitate retirees and active soldier family members to plan for visits/vacations instead of first come first serve allowing for the facility to be full by the time persons arrive.

The personnel working the travel camp are very good but are stifled by the red tape imposed on them and the facilities themselves.

I personally do not use the facilities on post. I used several of them or directed subordinate soldiers to several of them while on active duty. Since I have been retired I have had no reason to use the facilities. When I retired, retired personal were primarily only authorized to use certain facilities on a space available basis after active duty personnel. Based on that I began looking off post for my presonal recreation needs and have been less and less dependant on what Fort Hood has to offer. I do feel however that the services of MWR are vital to active duty personnel af an outlet to relieve off duty boredom as well in continued activities to prepare them for their job.

I rented a space at Blora from the 21st of June to the 26th of June. I think it's too expensive to use the facility on post. I would have saved money if I went off post. The beach at blora has a sign that says the beach closes at 2000 hours. But Sat. the 25th the beach was closed by 1910hours. If it says 2000 hours that what it should stay open to.

The Club system is of no value. If I wanted to be a "supportive" wife I would purchase a membership, I'd paid a year's dues up front. But the Club forces you to accept another credit card. Why, so they don't have to use a collection agency. I am willing to be supportive and pay up front. You already make my husband use that travel card, I will not accept another card.

The Army/politicians have essentially "forced" many families to live off-post. Why would my husband or I risk getting pulled over by the MPs? He could lose his career after just one drink? Even if he isn't DUI it goes on the blotter report to his commander. When we lived on Post we could walk home or take a Post taxi. I remember when my dad was in the Army. Drink on Post it is safer, they used to say. Now it is drink on Post and risk everything.

And the bowling alley... You have a 20 mph speed zone for two blocks on Santa Fe. If you do not travel this road daily, the signs are not "illuminated." I understand 20 when trucks are using the loading dock... but in the evening... what is the purpose? My daughter was ticketed for doing 24 in this zone after midnight bowling. Three neighbors got tickets, all for under 30. This zone is nothing but but an excuse to pull people over.

We do not use the bowling alley any more because of the tactics of the MPs in this speed zone. At least in the local towns, these speed zones have fluorescent signs or flashers.

I would like to see more advertising and better communication. I usually find out about events after they happen by reading about them in the Sentinel. It is disappointing to know that we could have had something to do and not have known about it. The frg is run by spouses who choose who to communicate with. The moral in our unit is very low and if we had more things to do, it may help pass the time. Also, the costs of many things on post are usually not worth paying for since the civilian companies offer competitive prices. My children take gymnastics off post because the total cost is much less and they have more activities than here.

I do not feel that MWR can or will make more people feel that the army cares when spouses are sick with cancer and husbands cannot get off of work for appts. or when they are having surgery for that cancer and husband is in kuwait waiting to come home but yet they won't send them even though they have children and the surgery is risky instead they tell him it isn't dramatic enough . sure the army can say here are some things for you guys to do go out and have fun here is some entertainment but until they can actually act like they truly give a damn and treat the soldiers like there family should be number one it will never happen families will still feel like we are number 2. the only reason my husband stays in is becuase if health insurance for myself and our EFMP children would love to see more promoting at unit level of activities and upcoming events, more small child/young child activities and sports programs at low or no cost for lower enlisted families, more child care hours for E-4 and below at no cost per month (then I would use it). more outreach program information available. unit level support of MWR activities that are family centered for quality family time, instead of the if the army wanted you to have a family they would have issued you one attitude. spouse sports teams on post, possibly spouse/unit sports teams to bring about a cohesiveness within a unit. would also like to see the saying, that the army is for the family,enforced, it's not enforced or shown at this time. more all age orientated activities ie:carnivals, enrichment programs for growing minds, etc..and would also like more volunteer opportunities to be made public, as it is very hard to hear of these as a stay at home mom, flyers are a good idea, but how about sending monthly mailings to spouses detailing what is happening in the month, and what volunteer opportunities are coming up or open.

I would like to see swimming classes for infants/toddlers to be held during the day and not after school when older kids would have to be put into a daycare for the class while the parent is with the infant in the pool. Currently the infant swim class is offered after 3:15pm when school is out, so that any older siblings would have to be with a babysitter during the class. I would also like to see additional classes for swimming, with only one class (8 spots) for each level held every few weeks, there are many children who go without learning how to swim for the entire summer because not enough classes.

not enough programs for children under 5 yrs old

Overall Comment

Would like to see more activities offered that would include younger children and better hours for programs that would allow soldiers to participate after work

I think the programs offered by MWR are great. I have not participated in alot of them, but not b/c I don't want to. Some of them just don't apply to me and some I don't have in our budget to pay for. Like the classes at Apache Arts & Craft Center I think are great, but I just can't pay $15 each time to go to a scrapbooking class, for example. Some of the reasons why we don't participate more in things is b/c of the cost. My son played soccer this last fall and it cost $40, not to mention the $18 just for signing him up for CYS. I think the prices are a little much. We don't make that much money to begin with. I just got through paying $40 for him to play "Instructional Baseball". Some of the programs they are offering off post at Killeen Recreation and Harker Heights, Copperas Cove and etc are offering coach pitch baseball by his age and some of them don't cost as much. Also, I haven't seen that MWR offers any jazz/dance/tumbling classes for tots and little girls. I have a daughter whose 4, going on 5 in Oct, and they are no programs for her age. All the youth activites are for kids at least in kindergarten. I would definitely like to see more programs such as the ones mentioned for smaller kids.

Thank you.
